Top Gear

Top Gear, the UK's premier motoring show, is still full to the brim of stunts, challenges and special features. Presented by a trio of overgrown kids, Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May provide authoritative information alongside plenty of good old-fashioned mucking about!

Top Gear Botswana Special

In this Top Gear special, the presenters drive across the wilds of Botswana in a second-hand car costing no more than £1,500. Along the way they must negotiate salt pans, rivers and reserves full of animals whilst enduring intense heat and suffocating dust. Will the trio survive yet another ludicrous challenge?

Machine versus animal in the ultimate test of power and endurance.

Top Gear 2007: Polar Special

Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May embark on their most ambitious challenge to date in an epic race pitting animal against machine. Watch as Jeremy and James drive 450 miles to the North Pole, while a team of ten Canadian Inuit dogs pull Richard the same distance. Who will make it to the finish line first?
